Prof. Dr. Rafael Moneo

Rafael Moneo was born in Tudela in the province of Navarra, Spain, in 1937. He obtained his architectural degree in 1961 from the Escuela Técnica Superior of Madrid. In 1970 he won a teaching chair in architectural theory at the Escuela Técnica Superior of Barcelona where he taught until 1980, when he became chaired professor of composition at the Escuela Técnica Superior of Madrid. In 1985 he was appointed Chairman of the Architecture Department of the Harvard University Graduate School of Design, a position he held until 1990. In 1991 he was named Josep Lluís Sert Professor of Architecture at Harvard University Graduate School of Design. Rafael Moneo combines his professional activity as an architect with that as lecturer, critic and theoretician. His writings have been published in numerous professional magazines and the presentation of his work through lectures and exhibitions has taken him to institutions on both sides of the Atlantic. In 2005 his book Theoretical Anxiety and Design Strategies in the Work of Eight Contemporary Architects was published in English by MIT Press and in Spanish by ACTAR.

Rafael Moneo has been awarded numerous distinctions, among them the Pritzker Prize for Architecture in 1996 and the Royal Gold Medal of the Royal Institute of British Architects in 2003.
